

1. The Gig

It has been 6 months since the formation of Huntr/x, and the girls have been playing at small venues, trying to gain exposure and practice. Tonight, they're playing for a small crowd at a bar in a busy riverside district. Or at least, that was the plan. As they were getting ready in the green room, they were ambushed by uninvited demon guests!

Go room to room and make sure that the demons are taken care of before they cause problems.

Each hero will receive 300gp as a reward for removing the demons!

Heroes, prepare yourselves for Chapter 1: The Gig.

X - This marks the starting area for the heroes.

A - "A goblin appeared while you were getting ready to perform at the venue tonight! Ready your weapons, girls!"

When they search this room, instead of drawing a treasure card read the following: "You find 100gp on the desk per hero. That was going to be your pay for your performance tonight. I suppose it can be pay for extermination services instead."

B - When searching this room, instead of drawing a treasure card, say "Amidst the books on music theory and history, you find a Potion of Healing. Take one from the treasure deck."

C - When searching this room, instead of drawing a treasure card, say "This looks like it must be where the venue keeps the evening's earnings. Do you want to go through their valuables?"

If the hero says yes, do a standard trap check. The chest has an electric shock trap, and if not disarmed it deals one BP damage to the hero. The heroes find 100gp inside.

D - This door begins open, with the enemies in the next room ready to fight alongside the Fimir.

E - "As you enter the room, you see one of the demons enveloping a human in purple mist. He utters in a sinister tone: 'In the name of my master, Agwi Hwasin, and of the malice hidden in your soul, stand and become one of us.' To your horror, the person disappears in the purple mist and is replaced by a terrifying zombie."

When these demons are defeated, say "You're pretty sure that was the last of them. What just happened? You've seen demons consume human souls, but you've never seen them turn one into a demon. And who is this master, Agwi Hwasin, of which they spoke? You need to get out of here and find answers. Celine might know about this demon and what to do next."

