

10. Diss Track

"Last time, on Huntr/x Quest":

The girls rescued Celine from the maw of the underworld itself and made a desperate flight to safety, but Agwi Hwasin evaded them. Once they got to the surface, they began to plan how to lure him out from hiding for a final confrontation.

Now heroes, prepare yourselves for quest 10: Diss Track.

Bobby, Celine, and the girls sat in the girl's apartment planning their next move carefully. Bobby proposed that they create a new diss track and premiere it at the stadium in front of tens of thousands of their adoring fans: perhaps dissing Agwi Hwasin would lure him out of hiding?

Everyone agreed that was a great idea, so they made the arrangements. Celine prepared four blue runes at the corners of the stage. "Remember girls, if you step onto one of these runes, your Encounter and Rest abilities will recharge automatically. You might need it!"

And now here you are, at the Jamsil Indoor Stadium, surrounded by fans on all sides, preparing to debut your new hit "Agwi Hwasin Smells Like Old Goat Farts".

As you reach the center of the circular stage, you can hear the screams of the crowd as they see hordes of demons pouring in from the aisles towards you. It looks like the plan worked! Defend the stage until the demonic forces have exhausted themselves and Agwi Hwasin is forced to reveal himself.

X - The girls start here.

Say the following: The demons charge the stage, but you're ready for them. Give it everything you've got. Remember, at least one of you must remain on the stage so that the performance continues. If none of the girls are on the central stage at the start of Gwi-Ma's turn, (the gray and black octagon squares in the center of the map), the mission ends in a failure and will have to be attempted again.

Spawn Goblins at each B location. They immediately get to take their move and action if possible.

Place 3 skull tokens on the table in a visible location, let the girls know that this is the countdown before more demons spawn.

At the start of every Gwi-Ma round, remove a skull token. If you cannot, then spawn the next of the following waves from the B locations and place 3 skull tokens back on the board, until there are no more waves to spawn.

- 6 Skeletons
- 6 Orcs
- 3 Fimirs, 2 Zombies, 1 Mummy
- 6 Chaos Warriors
- 2 Gargoyles, 4 Orcs
- 1 Chaos Sorcerer "The Last Disciple of Agwi Hwasin"

If you don't have enough units to spawn all of them, spawn the next available unit of similar or lesser power in the Enemy Type scale (Boss, High, Mid etc...).

Then the Last Disciple spawns, say You've made him angry! He has sent his last and most powerful disciple after you. Brace yourselves! He has the following stats:

Attack Dice: 3, with 2 additional guaranteed skull Defense Dice: 4 Body Points: 15 Mind Points: 10 Type: Tactical Special: At the start of his turn, roll a single red dice. Place a 3 x 3 meteor overlay on the location matching that number, and then say A flaming meteor somehow appears overhead! Watch the shadow and keep away from where it lands! Any units other than

The Last Disciple who are within the 3 x 3 meteor at the start of Gwi-Ma's next turn are hit for 2 Body Points of damage.

When the last enemy is defeated, say As the last demon vanishes in a puff of smoke and ash, you hear the thunderous roar of Agwi Hwasin himself. With a violent burst of lightning, the roof is torn asunder. People begin to flee as large chunks of concrete crash onto the stage around you, but you look up with eyes squinted in resolve. As the dust clears, you see Agwi Hwasin standing at the edge of the ruined rooftop. "You have played with my useless minions long enough. Come to the rooftop, and I will give you the quick death you deserve!"*

You gain 1000gp of experience from the intense battle. Grasping your weapon in hand, you make your way off the stage and begin the long climb to the ruined rooftop of the stadium for a final confrontation.*

A - If a girl ends their turn on this square, their Encounter and Rest abilities will be replenished.

B - These are the tiles from which monsters will spawn.

C - Stand the chest on its side so it sort of looks as close to a refrigerator as it can get. When you interact with the chest: Somehow amidst the battle, you found time to head back to the green room. How did you even manage to do this? Bobby left a Potion of Concentrated Honmoon in the mini fridge for you to enjoy after the concert, and 300gp per hero. You take it.
